

The Boston Globe

Metro

Monday, April 19, 2021

Jessica Rinaldi photo

Jessica Rinaldi photo

PICKING UP THE PIECES

Workers lifted a panel as they reconfigured the parts of an Abstract Sculpture to create new shape at Armenian Heritage Park on the Rose Kennedy Greenway in Boston on Sunday. The annual reconfiguration aims at honoring immigrants who left their country of origin and came to the United States.